Mr. Mark Hayden,

I wanted to take a moment to comment on the quality of work by FSE on the Adams County / Ohio Valley School District construction project. Specifically, I'd like to make mention of the work performed by Chris Bens throughout this project.

As you are aware, our particular project spanned nearly an entire county making it one of the largest OSFC school projects in terms of square miles that it covered. It included three newly constructed buildings and four buildings that were remodeled. I feel that the volume of work that was being done in our district combined with the fact that the individual job sites were many miles removed from one another could have been an obstacle to a commissioning technician but Chris did an outstanding job in managing his workload. Furthermore, the quality of his work was outstanding. Chris was instrumental in identifying and bringing about numerous corrections to design, installation, and operational issues with the mechanical and control systems in our buildings. I feel that his work is one of the reasons that our buildings have now become among the most energy efficient school buildings in the state of Ohio.

More than just identifying issues, Chris's strongest asset may be his ability to educate those who will eventually be entrusted to care for the buildings on a day to day basis. Through his work he has personally helped me understand how our complicated building systems are supposed to operate to maximum efficiency.

I want to thank Four Seasons Environmental for a job well done on our projects and would proudly recommend your firm to any organization seeking to maximize the operating potential of their facilities.
